Furthermore there was in the Admiralty Reserve Treasury no less a sum than thirteen million tools; and this amount has now been handed ever to the Board of Revenue to swell the War Fund. Why, with this large sum lying idle in the vaults, the Admiralty authorities should have refused two years ago the request of the Viceroy Li to buy more irondlade for the Pelyung fleat on the plea of there being no money in hand is a myslery, which can only be explained by the supposition that the Admiralty officials wished to keep this reserve for their own private purposes, they having already misappropriated four millions, which, as we have stated, they are me being forced by the government to repay. - N. THE TERMS OF PEACE.

The terms of the arrangements male between China and Japan for a Treaty of Peace bave not yet been given to the public, but the following sycopsis, from reliable native sources, may be taken as near the mark, namely, that Japan has signified her willingness to accept an indemnity of four hundred million dollars, the island of Fo mosa to be held by her as a guarantee for the Imyment of same. I his is presumably in differonce to Great Britain, who regards the giving up of Formosa as a menaca to her interests in the Far East, and which would necessitate the occupation of the Chasan Archipelago by her in order to preserve the buinnes of power. As for Manchuria the same reasons hold good in regard to Russia, bence Japan retains only the Regent's Sword, from Port Arthur at the southernmost and up to the city of Kaichow and its dependencies on the nor h. A basis for a close alliance between China and Japan will also be settled upou, and China consents to follow Japan's load as to reforms in her government, army, and navy, as well as in her foreign policy .- N. She has openly appounced that she will not permit any treaty, to be effective which does not fall in with her views. France has been following the lead of Russia in the Far East, and it is understood that there is an understanding between the two Powers as to their general policy. The other great Powers do not seem to have any settled policy, but have been apparently standing by and waiting the turn of events. The Government of the United States, in its position as go-between, might be expected to have considerable influence in the satilement of terms. There is, it is reported, an understanding on the one hand between Hussis and China, and on the other hand between Russia and Japan, that gives it the means of interfering. The question is regarding Japan's claim to conquered territory in Manchuria. Russia, it is well known, rechires a readjustment of boundaries in East Asia, to give her first acress all the year round. The principle is acknowledged, but details need adjustment. What is eventually to be arranged about Shingking depends more on Bussia at the The moment than either of the belligerents. Another topic, in which it is understood Chine and Japan have o me to an understanding, is the Bat cession of Formoso. This was to be given up to save Peking, the way to which was open.
